

Mockett's Wood Update 30-04-2026

Cleaner. Safer. Kinder

March and April have been busy months, and more insects have started appearing in the woods, particularly hover flies and solitary bees. In addition, ladybirds continue to thrive.

Cleavers [sticky weed] has also been going mad in the meadow. The recently closed off paths are now teeming with new plant growth.

Hedging and fencing work has continued as the team, plus regular volunteers carve out more mini 'reserves' to allow parts of the wood to re-wild. A second bug house from 14th Broadstairs Scouts was also installed.

Volunteer help from pupils at Life Skills Enterprise has also been invaluable in the last few weeks.
